February 2023 - Present

- Exceptional member of the Web Development team at Webever Technologies. Contributed to the completion of more than 5 projects for clients and subsidiary companies of Webever technologies such as <https://www.iitnj.edu>, <https://www.axelsthrowhouse.com>, <https://www.glammeppmu.com>, <https://beautify.com>, <https://popupmarketac.com> and more.
- Educated students in Full Stack Web Development at the Ideal Institute of Technology. Topics covered included programming fundamentals, HTML, and CSS in the beginning. Students attending class quickly moved to more difficult topics such as asynchronous programming, JavaScript frameworks and libraries, API's, backend Python, and databases.
- Increased students' software development skill set by more than 2x what previous instructors provided.
- Successfully educated students with completed BS degrees in Computer Science, students with many years of professional experience, and students that were brand new programming in Web Development.
- Developed email templates for marketing and constant contact. Worked with multiple developers at Stars Campus to automate sending emails to new leads based on what their area of interest upon filling out a form.
- Managed multiple projects that Webever was hired to complete. Assigned and followed up with tasks given to developers using Webever's custom CRM.
- Maintained relationships with clients, and tracked progress on all current projects.
- Utilized third party services to acquire work from potential clients. This included searching for work that was within the scope of Webever's capabilities, writing up proposals for each potential client, maintaining a relationship with the clients we were hired by, and keeping track of all submitted proposals with Google Sheets.
- Other responsibilities included writing up site maps for upcoming projects, and clarifying MVP's/ project goals to developers and clients.
